la economía ecológica proporciona una visión de las relaciones entre la economía y la biosfera y señala la tensión que existe entre la escala que ha alcanzado la actividad económica y la conservación de la naturaleza este enfrentamiento entre la evolución expansiva de la economía y el medio ambiente da lugar a conflictos distributivos de carácter eco social toda decisión económica viene precedida de una pugna distributiva y el desarrollo posterior de cualquier actividad tiene implicaciones en el reparto no sólo del valor económico sino también de los costes sociales y ambientales asociados a ese proceso en este sentido los problemas ambientales son el fruto de una desigualdad en la apropiación del espacio ambiental y en la toma de decisiones están quienes en función de su posición social y de las tareas que desempeñan gestión de los ámbitos cultural financiero político y militar tienen posibilidad de tomar decisiones que afectan a todos y hay también una amplia mayoría desposeída de la capacidad de alterar las decisiones de los primeros por ello las responsabilidades en el deterioro ambiental no son equiparables como tampoco son comparables los efectos que sobre los diferentes grupos de población se derivan de ese deterioro por qué lo estamos haciendo tan mal por qué tienen en apariencia una vigencia cada vez mayor los valores proambientales mientras que sin duda siguen prevaleciendo las conductas antiecológicas por qué tanto alboroto mediático y tan poca acción efectiva por qué no hacemos lo que sabemos que deberíamos hacer para atajar la crisis ecológico social buena parte de las reflexiones que se despliegan en las páginas que siguen tratan de responder a estas cuestiones ojalá que puedan ayudarnos

Urban Planning for Social Justice in Latin America explores how urban planning can be used as a tool for social equity the book examines several Latin American cities each with specific challenges and explores how they have gradually overcome these difficulties through policies planning and design and with private public sector coordination the cases include the built environment and social mobility in Bogotá Mexico City and its difficulties with water scarcity addressing air quality and environmental justice in Lima Santiago de Chile's energy consumption and carbon footprint Buenos Aires and the issue of urban agriculture and food security connectivity as a social transformation device in Medellín the book goes beyond simply identifying the challenges and explains some of the practical day to day planning efforts including interviews with staff from those municipalities illustrations and strategies that have been successful as a result this book will be helpful to planners in the region as well as outside latin america because it demonstrates how fruitful results can be achieved in areas typically perceived as underdeveloped although based on research and data this book offers a positive perspective on the possibilities rather than the limitations hoping to inspire new generations of planners to pursue careers in search of social change
